Introduction

The Australian Medical Association Queensland Foundation \(AMAQ Foundation\) has launched a small grants initiative to support Queensland organisations that assist victim-survivors of family and domestic violence.

By focusing on smaller organisations that may not typically have access to larger funding schemes, these grants can help ensure the availability of crucial, targeted support to victim-survivors when and where it is needed.

This communications kit is a collection of resources designed to help promote the AMAQ small grants initiative.

The kit provides consistent messaging and materials to ensure the initiative is represented and communicated clearly.

Key messages

- The Australian Medical Association Queensland Foundation \(AMAQ Foundation\) has launched a small grants initiative to support Queensland organisations that assist victim-survivors of family and domestic violence.
- Grassroots, community-based organisations that support victim-survivors are encouraged to apply.
- Family and domestic violence negatively affects the health of individuals, families and our communities across Queensland in a variety of ways, and grassroots, community-based organisations on the front line are uniquely positioned to provide crucial support to victim-survivors.
- Grant applications close on Midday, Monday 24 February 2025.

Title/Subject line:

Queensland grant opportunities now available - Help support victim-survivors of family and domestic violence

Body:

The Australian Medical Association Queensland \(AMAQ\) Foundation has launched a small grants initiative to support Queensland organisations that assist victim-survivors of family and domestic violence.

In Australia, approximately 1 in 4 women (23%) and 1 in 14 men (7.3%) have experienced violence by a partner since the age of 15.

AMAQ's small grants initiative, administered in partnership with Brisbane South PHN, aims to enhance the capacity of community-based organisations that provide support to victim-survivors in Queensland.

Expressions of interest for grants of up to $20,000 per applicant are currently open and close midday 24 February 2025.

Please let your relevant networks know of this grant opportunity.

For more information about the grants and to apply, please visit the Brisbane South PHN website <https://bsphn.org.au/news/queensland-grant-opportunities-now-available-help-support-victim-survivors-of-family-and-domestic-violence>.

Who can apply for the grants?

Queensland-based organisations that support victim-survivors of family and domestic violence can apply for the grants. In particular, organisations that may not typically be eligible to access larger funding schemes are strongly encouraged to apply.

The grants will focus on organisations that:

- represent diverse geographic areas, cultural groups, or community networks
- deliver measurable, sustainable activities aligned with the grant objectives
- require additional support to expand their reach and impact.

Purpose of the small grants initiative

This initiative aims to provide support to organisations that deliver essential services for victim-survivors of family and domestic violence. The grants will assist organisation to:

- build capacity to respond to the increasing number of people experiencing abusive situations
- enhance the delivery of support services through innovative and place-based solutions
- increase awareness of available programs and services for victim-survivors.

More information

Find more details about the grant guidelines and application process via the Brisbane South PHN website.
